Department Education Program Updates

Dear Orthopaedic Surgery Residents and Faculty,

We would like to share an important internal update regarding leadership changes within our Residency Program and the exciting next steps in shaping the future of our educational programs.

At the end of the academic year, Drew Sanders, M.D. (Program Director), and Associate Program Director, Ann Golden, M.D., (pictured below) will step down from their respective leadership roles in the UT Southwestern Orthopaedic Surgery Residency Program. While they will no longer serve in these positions, we are pleased to announce that both will remain integral members of our department, continuing to contribute their expertise and guidance.

Dr. Sanders and Dr. Golden have made tremendous contributions to the development and success of our residency program. Their leadership, dedication, and mentorship have profoundly shaped our program over the years. We are deeply grateful for their service and commitment and look forward to their assistance in ensuring a smooth transition as we begin the search for new program leadership.

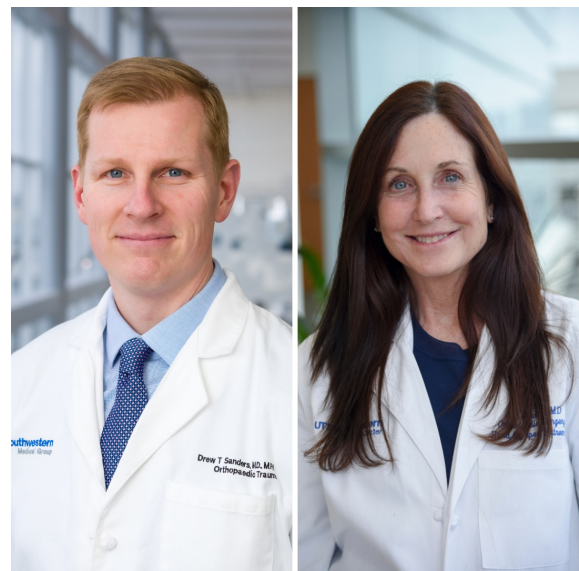

As part of this transition, we are initiating an internal search to fill these two essential roles:

- Program Director
- Associate Program Director

These roles are vital to overseeing the leadership, organization, and administration of our Orthopaedic Surgery educational programs. The selected individuals will play a crucial part in continuing the legacy of excellence in our residency program and driving innovation in education throughout the department.

Please join us in thanking Dr. Sanders and Dr. Golden for their exceptional service and continued commitment to our program. We look forward to their ongoing contributions as we move through this transition.

Thank you all for your support and participation as we shape the future of education in Orthopaedic Surgery.

Sincerely,

Antonia Chen, M.D., MBA
Professor and Chair
Dr. Charles F. Gregory Distinguished Chair in Orthopaedic Surgery
